Are you submitting a video file (in MP4/M4V or MOV format) that demonstrates the entry in action?

◯ Yes, the video file is included in a zipped file that we are uploading

◯ No, we are not submitting a video with this entry

Title of this entry

Abstract (a brief one- or two-line summary of the entry)

Detailed description

What was your goal in creating the entry?

Discuss how your entry is unique or improved

Describe any previous or similar methods used in the industry to accomplish the same function, and how the entry differs.

List and describe any competitive products, or alternative methods, and how your entry differs. Include both advantages (positive differences) and disadvantages (negative differences).

Describe any factors that might restrict the entry's usefulness (examples: only works with certain equipment, laser power must be below a certain level, requires special training or knowledge, has a high cost, etc.).

List the price of the product, if it is for sale. If there are various versions or levels, list these as well. If the product is available only for rental or lease, list the price for the rental or lease. (This is the public or end-user price; you do not have to list the private or dealer price.)

If this is an entry in the IDN Standards Technical Achievement category, describe how the entry implements, uses, extends or otherwise helps to advance the use and/or capabilities of the ILDA Digital Network standards.

If appropriate, you may attach additional documents, user manuals, diagrams, video, etc. to support your awards application. Please list these materials.

If the entry video depicts lasers on or near humans, then you must submit documentation about the safety of the lasers used in the video. For details, on the webpage at ilda.com/rules.htm, follow the procedures in the section at the bottom "If an entry is required to provide safety documentation."
